Primary pupils enjoy mediation skills

PRIMARY 6 and Primary 7 pupils from St. Brigid's PS, Moyegall, Knockloughrim PS and Maghera PS, have joined together to develop their mediating skills.

A series of workshops were held at each of the schools with activities ranging from games, discussion, debate to role-play. The schools have been able to provide these opportunities due to their involvement in the Primary Integrating/Enriching Education Project.

The Primary Integrating/Enriching Education Project (PIEC) is a three year project, which began in September 2009 and is funded by the Department of Education and the Atlantic Philanthropies and monitored by PIEC.

It is managed by the NIEI and monitored by a Project Steering Group representing the following educational partners: NIEI, Education and Library Board (NIEI), the Council for Catholic Maintained Schools (CCMS), the Northern Ireland Council for Integrated Education (NICIE) and Catholic as well as Protestant (Cant). It aims to develop cross community partnerships for sustainable success.
